wittenberg 1955-56

Just what did happen at Wittenberg during the year 1955-56? Did everyone live up to his ambitious plans made in September? Were there times when there wasn't any silver lining in the "Sprinklefield" monsoon clouds? Were there times of cheer and laughter and good fun, and times of sad, lonely blues? Remember how it felt to have three meetings scheduled at four o'clock?

Let's see—who were the B.M.O.C.'s this year? How did we do in sports? Oh, remember old Professor _____ _____? What was his name, anyway? What was the tune we all hummed in the union and heard above the pinball machines down at the Drug?

We, the '56 WITTENBERGER staff, would like to present to you the living, vividly pictorial account of just one eventful year. We intend to bring to mind the answers to these questions and to bring back a crowd of warm memories to those who lived it and remember with a smile.

No, as the world goes, it isn't a record-breaking year. It is just a record of twelve hundred people and their daily lives; but these are extra special days, and these events deserve to be remembered. Folks tell us they are the best days of our lives; today we'd say, "Man, those days were the most, to say the least!"

So, we offer you these keys; they unlock a bookful of times and memories. Look beyond the doors they open and see why these days really were "the most."

did the seniors ever notice?

The deed is everything; nothing is fame. This is the often passed but little noticed inscription at the base of the sundial in front of Carnegie Hall.

For seniors, as they are leaving, this obscure sentence shall be a measuring rod, a standard by which their college lives can be measured. It is an exacting rule, for it demands action, not words. Famous is a man when men sing his praises, but deeds are their own herald. "He is considered successful in our day who gets more out of life than he puts into it," said Einstein, "but a man of value will give more than he receives." It is with this measuring rod of deeds that our seniors can judge the value or success of their college lives.

For freshmen this inscription must be a warning. It is the hand of those who have gone on, reaching back with words of sage advice, born of experience, for those who walk the paths of Wittenberg now. Deploring the life whose only merit is the fame, it calls for lives of deeds. It does not offer praise or fame--NICHTS DER RUHM--only the reward of a life of value. More than a warning, this inscription may be a challenge to freshmen. It is a cry for greater lives and greater works. It pleads for lives of service--DIE TAT IST ALLES.

Behind this plaque stands the familiar sundial. On its base is the inscription—AS A SHADOW: SUCH IS LIFE — comparing this life to the shadow of the arm as it passes over the face of the dial. It reminds us that life goes ever on and, like the spoken word, can never be recalled. The "unforgiving minute" must be filled with "sixty seconds worth of distance run." To the man who can do this is promised, "the world and all that's in it." Moreover, when life sinks from its zenith and the lengthening shadows cross the dial, the wise man will harbour no regrets for a squandered life.

Do you remember the first professor you saw on campus? Was he the stodgy, absent-minded, frumpish person that you'd expected to find? Happily, our faculty and administration are made up of down-to-earth people who have set their aspiration for the future of the students at a level where they will be able to contribute the most to life. One often wonders what prompts so many individuals in their field, to spend their time in a job which is relatively unrewarding in material aspects. Perhaps they feel that arousing the latent intellect of young people, and watching them use it, is ample reward.

Most of us do not realize the advantages to be gained by associating with those who are our teachers and perhaps pass up many opportunities to gain knowledge not found in books. But some of us find that working with the college staff is an open door to even wider vistas beyond the four years spent in learning.

faculty and administration

our president, and

A college is something given to us. It is our heritage from the years gone by and from thousands of hands who gave us what we cherish today.

A college is something that we pass on to the generations to follow us, a heritage made better because we added our best to it.

In conspicuous measure we at Wittenberg enjoy both these high privileges. We are rich in our inheritance; we are richer still that we may hand it over, enhanced, to those who will come after us. For both we give abundant thanks.

Clarence C. Stoughton

CLARENCE C. STOUGHTON

CLARENCE C. STOUGHTON

President Stoughton has had a rich background of experiences which have made his services all the more valuable to Wittenberg. Before he came to us in 1949, he served as president of Wagner College for ten years and traveled for four years as the Stewardship Secretary and Executive Director of the Layman's Movement of the United Lutheran Church.

those who assist him,

EMERSON W. RECK

As Wittenberg's Vice President and General Secretary since 1948, Dr. Reck has contributed much to the operations of our college. He was previously Director of Public Relations at Colgate University and is widely known for his work in the field of public relations.

WENDELL C. NYSTROM

Dean Nystrom has been a member of our college staff since 1937, adding to his duties as head of the Department of Education that of Assistant Dean of the College in 1942 and later of Dean of the College in 1946. In charge of the academic program and director of graduate study, Dean Nystrom is a capable member of our administrative staff.

JOHN N. STAUFFER

Dean Stauffer came to our campus in 1947 as Dean of Students and Assistant Professor of Psychology and in 1953 was made Associate Professor of Education. During this time he has proved himself a capable member of our student guidance and counselling staff, giving freely of his time to many of our students. This year found him absent from the office for three months to complete research work toward another degree.

HULDA SALLEE

The year 1947 also brought Dean Sallee to us, as an Assistant Dean of Students in charge of women's activities. Miss Sallee became Dean of Women and Assistant Professor of Education in 1950 and has since become an integral part of the campus life, always ready to help those who are in need of her assistance.

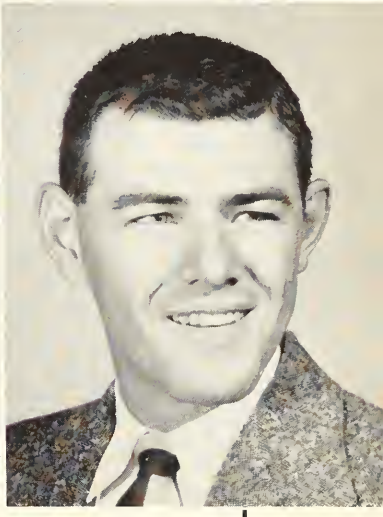
An active member of the administrative staff, Mr. Maurice visits the Alumni areas, keeps up with address changes, and is in charge of the Alumni Fund.



WILSON E. HOGE

GERALD W. JANOSEK

Assisted by Mr. Janosek, Mr. Hoge as Director of the Admissions Department, has done a great deal to promote an enlargement and selection of student enrollment, the visitation program bringing our college to the attention of many.

K. G. LIND

Serving as both College Editor and Assistant Professor of English, K. G. Lind may be found working on the Alumnus bulletin, the handbook, football programs, and the college directory during the year.

GERALD L. BARTELS

Doing a fine job as our Publicity Director, Mr. Bartels is covering all student, college, and campus activities in newspapers throughout the country.

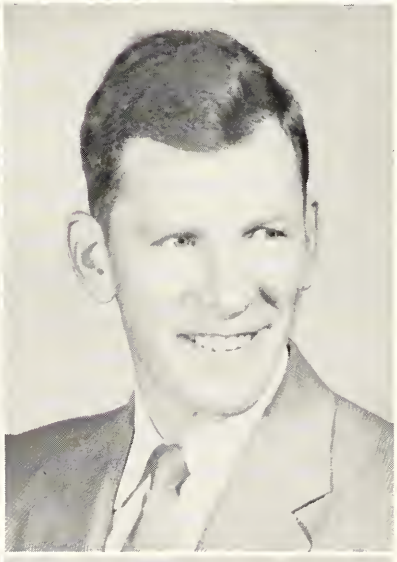
At Wittenberg since 1945, Dr. Matthies as Vice President and Treasurer, has responsibilities concerning fund-raising and investments.

HELEN M. DYER

Miss Dyer, as Registrar, is in charge of the student grades, records, and curriculum. She also helps to build master schedules and exam schedules.



GORDON E. McOWEN

Chief Accountant of the college, Mr. McOwen is responsible for keeping the books and accounts of the college in order.

HAROLD E. KOCH

New to our campus this year, Mr. Koch is an alumna of Wittenberg. As Secretary of Development he has a part in such projects as raising funds for the conversion of Zimmerman Library to a Home Economics building.

president's cabinet

Integrating the various areas of college life, this group of the top administrative men of the college form a committee which makes administrative decisions as a team. In this manner, knowledge of problems and solutions is made common to each of the cabinet members, allowing him to utilize his own facilities more effectively.

Seniors, you have just closed but have not locked a door through which may be recalled four college years of studying and preparing a way for the richest and fullest portion of your life. The remainder of this path of living lies just beyond another doorway—that of commencement. The latter door is open wide for the "act of beginning," beginning as a member of society developing intellectually and influencing men's minds and their works.

Yes, commencement is the "act of beginning" or starting anew. It is not the change from one level of achievement to another. The preparatory period is over; it is now time to inaugurate a life based on that preparation strengthened with initiative and self-discipline. As you pass through the open door, never forget that the door to Wittenberg is without a lock so that you may return and renew spiritual inspiration and academic stimulation for the days ahead. We who remain on campus wish you success. Build a life abundant in the truth acquired from the treasures of the four years you are now leaving; go forward fortified by a deep faith to meet the challenge of the future.

How can it be so late so soon? Every junior remembers what he muttered when freshman finals loomed: "Just wait till graduation." But the months flew, and we got through those exams with lots of coffee and cramming; and suddenly that far-off day of reckoning is almost here. One more Prom—another hectic rushing season, complete with four-year warmed over conversation—another Homecoming, with all its sweat and splendor—and hallelujah! one more year of finals! Only memories remain of sophomore slump and freshman fears; we know now when bermudas are in order, how to sleep unobtrusively in the second row of a warm classroom, where to go for the best pizza within walking distance, and who we can't date because she was pinned last year to a friend of our roommate's big brother. We've begun to carry the burdens of campus activities; officers, organizers, the wheels-behind-the-wheels, aspiring to the senior spotlight. We know how to have more fun than anybody; we have the closest friends, and we know now where we're headed for. Three years of meeting madness and midnight oil have brought us to the top of a mountain of blue-books as high as Myers Hall. But now that we've passed the peak, it's funny to find ourselves regretfully dragging our heels a little on the rocky slide down to Commencement Hollow.

Before we step through the door to our junior year, we pause for a moment to look back at our sophomore days. We remember the "we've arrived" feeling as we strolled across campus bareheaded among the red-capped freshmen. As counselors and Greek big brothers and sisters, we tried to give the newcomers the benefits of our rugged first year's experiences. Remember the annual tug-of-war at Denison on Migration Day? We went down in the mud like dominoes, losing our coats, shoes, and composures, when the "sturdy" rope snapped.

Les Brown's Band of Renown came to Wittenberg on December 8. This concert, his only one in Ohio, was our big project, with the aid of Student Senate.

As our year unrolled like a long carpet toward the open door of fall, 1956, we added up our successes and failures, evaluated ourselves, and emerged, we hope, with the strength and faith we would need for the approaching two years at Wittenberg.

With one foot firmly planted in the doorway, we have survived our first year with fresh determination to make a name for ourselves that will last long after this same door is closed quietly behind us. The Freshman class of '59 is here to stay.

All that was so new to us, those tempting tastes of college life we've shared—the symbolic scarlet beanies and the luscious fire they made that day we bravely burned them at the field house; the tensions at teas and the suspense at smokers when we were being rushed; the improved posture behind those new pledge pins; the fantasy of our first college formal—we were a part of it, and it was very much a part of us.

We didn't realize how really unprepared we were until June came and we looked back. Back over those first frantic weeks of questions; the realization that high school nonchalance was nil and that our attitude must undergo a complete change.

The class of '59 will face next year unafraid and unpredictable, with the proud self assurance of college sophomores.

A word of wisdom from our upperclassmen: "Cheer up, Sophomores, the worst is yet to come."

A freshly decorated house greeted the Alpha Deltas on their return this fall. Wrought iron decorating replaced the white columns of the exterior, while miscellaneous changes gave the interior that "new look." Swinging into the routine of social life, the AD Pis journeyed to the heights in their "Alpine Adventure" pledge dance while the holiday season found them on a "Christmas Island" for the annual winter formal. The children of the Oesterlen Home were entertained at a party after which there was caroling with the Lambda Chis. Scholarship was a recurring theme as the chapter won both the pledge and active scholarship cup awards at the 1955 Honors Day while receiving at their own national convention, the efficiency and scholarship awards. Names in Alpha Delt news ranged from senior Joyce Chamberlin serving her third year as college organist to freshman Cathy Myers as secretary of her class. In between was Barb Tinholt, sophomore, reigning as Queen of Diamonds. The traditional Sweetheart Dance and Parent Weekend brought more activity, while the spring dance wrote finis to a grand year.

1956 marks fifty-two years of active participation in Wittenberg campus life for the Alpha Xis, the first national sorority to establish a chapter here. The first event on our social calendar was the tea held in honor of our new housemother, Mrs. Blanche Wessel. It was shortly after this that we retained possession of the volleyball trophy for the second consecutive year. December saw the Alpha Xis enter into the spirit of Christmas by entertaining boys and girls from the Inner Mission at a party. The winter formal, "The Crystal Ball," and the chapter Christmas party and caroling kept spirits high until that long-awaited vacation arrived. Exchange dinners and parties with the Lambda Chis, Phi Mus, and Phi Gams rounded out the year, which was climaxed by the most outstanding social event in an Alpha Xi's life—the traditional Rose Dance.

This year was highlighted for Chi Omegas by a January visit of their national president, Miss Elizabeth Dyer. The group was also quite proud and pleased with the surprise awaiting them last September—a newly decorated living-room and television room completed by their alums during the summer. Gert Reiniger was elected the first woman president of Student Senate, president of W.A.A., and is a candidate for "Miss Campus Coed." Sportswise, the Chi Os won the badminton cup. The girls at 41 West College are now looking with anticipation to the hill overlooking Carnegie, where their new house will soon be built.

This September, the eighty-second Delta Gamma chapter was formed at Wittenberg to become the seventh Greek women's group on campus, and the eighth Delta Gamma chapter in Ohio. D. G. colonized with a field secretary, Marilyn Monahan, from the University of Toronto, laying the ground work for the fraternity. On October 5, 1955, twelve co-eds became charter members of Gamma Rho of Delta Gamma. The administration provided a suite in the back of Ferncliff Hall for them, and six members live there. D.G.s have participated in all campus functions and profited by this experience. One of our members, Rose Gabler, is secretary of the sophomore class. We were guests at the Alpha Xis' Christmas Formal, and have been shown great hospitality by all Greek and independent groups on campus. The D.G.s served the community by giving aid to the Inner Mission. Next year, bigger and better things for the D.G.s.

It's "Anchors Aweigh" for our first year on campus!

After the season of rushing parties the DZs welcomed 25 new pledges into their group—the pledges were honored at the "Warlike Wiggle" pledge dance and at a dessert party with Delta Gamma. This year has been filled with fraternity exchange dinners, open house parties, and dinners for faculty guests and foreign students. At Christmas, big and little sisters celebrated through the traditional giving of gifts, carol singing, and the reading of Christmas stories and poetry. A sweetheart dinner was given for pinned and engaged couples, and also a party for housemothers. Special projects were sponsored for contributions to Gallandet College for the deaf and to buy hearing aids for Springfield children. The Founders' Day banquet was held at the Ker-Deen Inn. Last year Delta Zeta won the inter-sorority bowling cup, and Lianne Valleau was chosen to reign as Alma Mater queen. In the spring Beta Chi chapter were hosts for Delta Zeta State Day. Their spring formal at the country club set off the close of the year.

Torchy beams down on the Homecoming efforts of Bev and Lynn.

Just think, we can do this all over again next year. (Rushing, that is.)

An eventful year began for Alpha Nu chapter of Gamma Phi Beta with a successful rushing season. Following this, top honors were captured by Carolyn McCelland, who was named Homecoming Queen, and her court, Nancy Osborn and Anne Morris—all members of our sorority. In intramurals, the Gamma Phis won the 1955 Intersorority Sing and the tennis championship. This fall brought us more success by winning the swimming meet and ping-pong tournament. During the festive Christmas season, we held our annual orphan's party at the chapter house, and our Christmas formal, "Snow Ball," at the Shawnee Hotel, where Omar Thomas was crowned "Snow Ball King." Spring closed our year on a high note with many other gala events, highlighted by activation and our annual spring formal.

"The South shall rise again" rang from the rafters of the KD house. Homecoming found devastated Otterbein Plantation and lovely Scarlet O'Hara in a scene from "Gone With the Wind" winning the hearts (and display trophy) of all, even those not-so-southern. Our southern belle, Eileen Bradley, was a candidate for homecoming queen. Mrs. Vera Grant (a southern name) has been a gracious contribution as our new housemother. Fall weather came and with it blew in two new pledges to make a grand total of 26. This, of course, called for a party, which was in the form of a hay·ide at the Urbana Hunt and Game Club. Three KDs, Marty Clark, Eileen Bradley, and Barbara Kelley, shone as candidate for the TORCH Cover Girl. Marty Clark was also chosen as a candidate for Miss WITTENBERGER. We held a Thanksgiving service with the Betas at Rest Haven. The winter formal, "Cover Girl," was held at the Bancroft Hotel. At Christmas we had a party with the Phi Gams for orphans. To set off the spring, the KDs held their annual spring formal at the Springfield Country Club.

The ATOs had another successful season in the intramural events. We won trophies for first place in many of the events. The Taus also had a good showing on all of the school varsity teams. Football, basketball, track, swimming, and baseball—all found the Taus fighting for Wittenberg. Our housemother, Mrs. Gibson, adds much to make the house more homelike. We also have acquired a new and modern kitchen, and we are looking forward to many other improvements in the near future.

Another long run for a T.D. to put the Taus ahead.

beta theta pi

Alpha Gamma of Beta Theta Pi dedicated its new chapter house in October. This year the Betas were well represented in campus activities, having the presidents of eight campus clubs in their ranks. In his Wittenberg basketball career, President Jack Hawken has scored more points than any other player in the college's history. Betas will always remember the four seniors who made up the "Beta Quartet," whose fame spread to New York and other entertainment circles. The pledge class of 1955 won the "Best Pledge Class" award. The chapter visited three homes for the aged and at Christmas gave a party for children of Oesterlen Home. In addition to all these activities, the Betas followed their usual pattern of pledge dances and formals, making this a truly successful year.

Concentration—keynote to the Student Princes' success.

delta sigma phi

Delta Sigma Phi, founded in 1922 at Wittenberg, was originally a pre-theological fraternity. In 1922 it became the fifty-third of eighty chapters of Delta Sigma Phi, an international fraternity founded in 1899. The Beta Iota chapter of Delta Sig started this year's activities by moving from 735 Woodlawn Avenue to 809 North Fountain Avenue. A program of remodeling and renovation is now being engineered. Other annual activities included the Thanksgiving Breakfast held at the Ker-Deen Inn, "The Dollar Sixty-Five Luncheon" (pronounced Delta Sigma Phi), The Christmas Formal, the Sailors' Ball, the Sweetheart Dinner, Varsity Nite weekend, Varsity Nite Buffet Dinner, and the "Dream Girl, Carnation Ball." Along with these activities, we worked on our now international program of "Engineered Leadership," which was instituted and developed here at Wittenberg.

Pledge Anspach shines his way to activation.

The Nu Zeta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha started off the year with a successful rushing season, which netted twenty-two pledges. This was immediately followed with work on Homecoming. Many of the alumni returned, from as far as New York City, to see Lambda Chi again win the best campus display. Our house was cleaned by the Gamma Phis, whose services were won at Student Day last year. In intramural sports, we were second in football and first in handball for the third straight year. On December 9 our "White Rose" formal was held, when our Crescent Queen, Shirley Mitchell, and her attendants, Bobbie Giles and Carol Roush, were crowned. Shirley is pinned to Brother Dick Snarr; Bobbie is engaged to Brother Tom Lutz; and Carol is pinned to Brother John Barringer. A Christmas party for some of the children at the Oesterlen Home was held on December 17. Our traditional all-chapter Christmas dinner took place at the chapter house on December 18; it was followed by our annual formal this spring.

This was a busy year for the Fijis, the first one in their new home. Traditional dances and parties were held, along with a special tea honoring Sigma's first housemother, Mrs. Margaret Heisel. Mom, after several months of pledgehood, was presented with a sweetheart pin at the Christmas banquet. Phi Gams were well represented in campus activities with Dick Veler, TORCH editor, Earl Sigg and Jim Haucke, WITTENBERGER editors, and Don Hauck, I.F.C. president. All the Phi Gams and Phi Psis grew beards for the annual Jeff-Duo. Sophomores and Freshmen clashed in their annual tug-o-war in Snyder Park and the Fijis traditionally entertained their sweethearts at the Orchid Formal in the spring. The year was climaxed with the fifty-second annual Pig Dinner preceded by dedicational ceremonies of "new 20."

Phi Kappa Psi, oldest Greek organization on campus, began their ninetieth year on Wittenberg's campus this fall. Phi Psi, famed for social life, had its usual successful social season, which was highlighted by its Ninetieth Anniversary Banquet at the Springfield Country Club. Prominent Phi Psis present included Ford C. Frick, Commissioner of Baseball, and Dr. Rees Edgar Tulloss, President Emeritus of Wittenberg. Other social events included Mothers' Weekend, "Speakeasy Sprawl," Christmas Formal, and the Jeff-Duo, which included a beard growing contest with the Phi Gams. Phi Psis are also very active in other phases of campus life, having members in many honoraries and clubs and on various athletic teams. Gene Pierce is a member of Blue Key; Jack Schall a member of Shifters; Dan Shields is president of Pi Sigma Alpha, and past president, Bob Kaitschuk, is secretary of the Third District of Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity.

This year the Phi Mus started their social schedule with a successful outdoor dance following the first football game. Other activities on our social calendar included the traditional formals and dances. Many projects to aid public welfare have been completed by the group. At the Dad's Day game each member acted as a "dad" to boys from Clark County Children's Home. Also, The Phi Mus made and set up the scenery for "Amahl and the Night Visitors." Louie Faulkner represented Phi Mu Delta in such honoraries as Blue Key and Pick and Pen; he and Harry Yingst are members of Shifters and the football team. Participation in all intramural sports and other campus activities has made this year a very busy one.

This year Pi Kappa Alpha changed their location to a newly decorated house on Woodlawn Avenue. "The House of Blue Lights" was the theme of our fall house dance. In the holiday season, the Pi Kaps held their formal — "Rhapsody in Blue" — at the Shriner's Club. Our last formal of the year was traditionally held in the spring. Campus honors were bestowed on several Pi Kaps this year. Bob Bowman, past president, is president of the senior class, vice president of Student Senate, and a member of Blue Key. Dick Risner is a member of Shifters and a member of the basketball squad. Various other members participated in football and basketball, helping to make a successful year for the Pi Kaps.

second row: Bob Henderson, Gene Urbanski, Jim Rolfes, Dick Snarr, John Barringer, Rick Zimmerman, Bob Kaitschuk, Dick Marzoff.

Interfraternity council, made up of two representatives from each fraternity, is the governing body which directs and advises the activities of the eight Greek fraternities on campus. Greek Week, sponsored jointly with the Pan-Hellenic Council, was their main project for the year. The Council has also revamped its constitution, revised the rules for Varsity Night, and worked out a delayed rushing system to go into effect next fall. Professor Bush is the faculty advisor for the council.

Interfraternity Pledge Council, composed of a representative from each pledge class and their pledge trainer, governs the fraternity pledges on campus. The council worked with the Junior Pan-Hellenic Council this year in sponsoring a Winter Carnival, the proceeds of which went to the Town and Country Day School for retarded children. Another project sponsored by the Council is a campus cleanup in which all pledges participate. Gene Pierce acts as advisor for the Pledge Council.

Pan-Hellenic Council, composed of a representative and the president from each sorority, is the body which coordinates and controls the functions of the seven national sororities on campus. In addition to working with Interfraternity Council on Greek Week, the Council has completely revised its constitution and is working on a new compact which will be issued during Freshman Week next fall. The faculty advisors for the Council are Dean Sallee and Miss Helsel.

Junior Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of two pledges from each sorority and acts as the governing body for the Greek women pledges. With the aid of its faculty advisor, Mrs. Dillahunt, the Council has been working on the problems which occur in the pledge classes. Along with the Interfraternity Pledge Council, the Council also planned and sponsored a special project—the Winter Carnival—held early in January.

Wittenberg's fourth annual Greek Week, sponsored by Interfraternity Council and Pan-Hellenic Council began February 10 with the traditional Greek Week Dance. Marty Blaney's coronation was the highlight of the "Olympic Festival." The next morning all pledges on campus took part in the annual community work session for charitable organizations in Springfield. Open houses, an exchange dinner and the traditional faculty tea added to the Greek atmosphere at Wittenberg. Sunday the Greeks attended church in individual groups. A banquet at Woodlawn hall given in honor of all new Greeks or Greeks to-be on February 20 brought Greek Week at Wittenberg to a close.

Two smokers for independent men were given by the Dorm league to begin the social season this year. The 17 pledges added to the League's social functions by actively participating in a party with the Independent Women held at the Y.W.C.A. Also on the social calendar were the winter formal, "Northern Lights," and the annual "Red Rose" dinner dance. A special activity during the Christmas season was caroling with the Gamma Phis, both organizations being the "Sing" winners of spring, 1955. Jerry Schooler was awarded a presidential scholarship for his outstanding academic achievement, and Bish Hathaway was active in several campus organizations. Dorm Leaguers participated in all of the intramural events, winning a first place in tennis last fall.

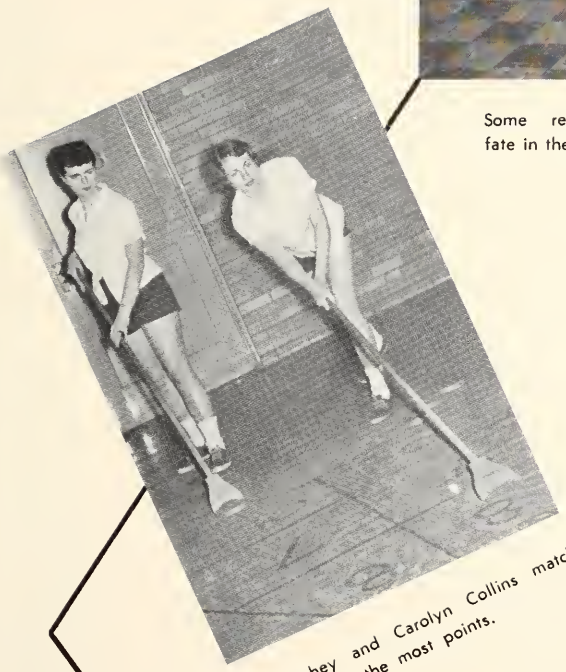
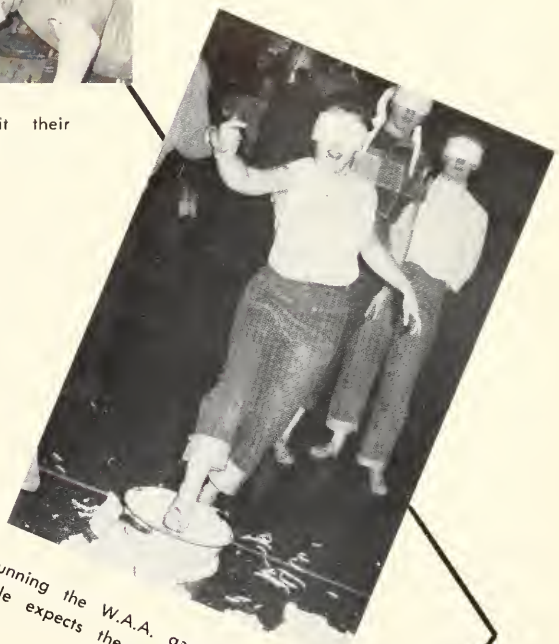
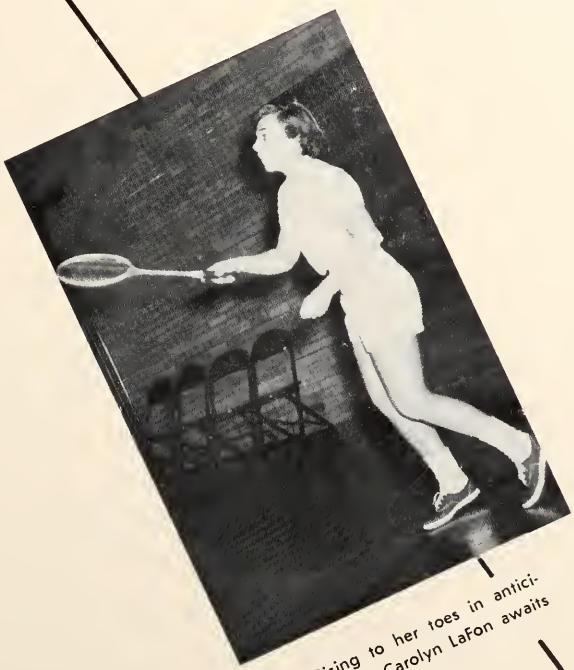
Some resigned—some eager—all await their fate in the W.A.A. initiation.



Pat Hughey and Carolyn Collins match skills to gain the most points.



Running the W.A.A. gauntlet an initiate little expects the forthcoming sensation.



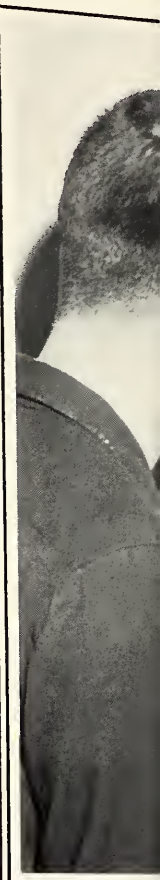
Rising to her toes in anticipation, Carolyn LaFon awaits the next shot.

Alice Baumann sends a fast ball singing toward a victory.

Meetings of clubs and honoraries densely populate a Wittenberger's activity calendar. However, prominence on an already-overloaded schedule testifies to their importance.

Of Wittenberg's thirty-two campus organizations, no two are alike in purpose or activity. Some exist solely to honor students in a specific area. Many groups present programs to educate further their members concerning specialized fields of study. Others sponsor projects to aid community, college, or individual club. Still additional groups afford an enjoyable, relaxing hour or two of recreation. Some boast a long and commendable history both nationally and locally, while others acclaim their zestful youth.

Contributing vitally to the Wittenberg experience, participation in clubs and honorary societies blend with academic and social life in giving the student a well-balanced college diet. Both immediate and far-reaching benefits of such affiliations can be evaluated only in terms of demonstrated interest.



clubs and honoraries

alpha lambda delta

The importance of high scholarship is emphasized to freshman women by this national honorary. Its members are those women who earn an average of 3.50 or better during their first semester or their entire freshman year. In conjunction with Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary, Alpha Lambda Delta sponsors a mid-term party for all freshmen who earn a 3.00 or higher average.

first row: Pecok, Gnagey, Keller, president, Brown.
third row: Bayer, Maddock, Miller, Johnson, Sessa, Valleau.

first row: Graham, Swartsbaugh, president, Pershing, advisor, Barnhart.

phi eta sigma

Phi Eta Sigma is a national Men's honorary which promotes high scholarship in the freshman class. To encourage proper study habits the organization passes out literature, and study schedules, and will give counseling to any freshman desiring such aid. Its members are those men who achieve a scholarship quotient of 3.50 or better during the first semester of their freshman year.

first row: Snyder, Little, Johnson, Miller, president, Stevenson, Stiver.

Sophomore and junior women who have contributed to campus life by high academic work and by endeavoring to support the cause of Christian democratic education are eligible for membership in Ivy Ring. This organization, founded in 1952, serves the college by promoting a better relationship between students and faculty, and by lending support to worthy causes and constructive projects.

first row: Marzolf, Spenny, president, Dr. Pershing.

pick and pen

In the spring of their sophomore year, selected men of outstanding personality, scholarship, and character are tapped for Pick and Pen. This organization has been active on campus since its founding in 1924.

arrow and mask

Each spring Arrow and Mask elects, from the junior class, women of superior leadership and top character traits, to their membership. In addition to these qualities candidates must hold a 3.00 scholarship average. The honorary has been a part of our campus life since 1922.

first row: McCelland, Johnson, Valleau, president, Brashear.

first row: Roller, Budach, Richards, president, Hathaway, Zimmerman, Smith.
second row: Faulkner, Pierce, Hauck, Bowman, Spenny.

The members of Blue Key must have a scholarship average of 2.50, and be outstanding in leadership, character, personality, and service. The Wittenberg chapter of this organization was founded in 1926. It serves as an advisory body to the College administration on matters of general campus interest and tries to promote the best interests of student life.

Roller, Hauck, Zimmerman, Hathaway.

skull and chain

Organized in 1922, Skull and Chain is the honorary for senior men. The qualifications for membership are outstanding records in scholarship, leadership and general achievement. A student must have a scholarship average of 2.50 or above to be eligible.

first row: Urbanski, Schall, Zimmerman, Degenhard, Hawkins, Risner.
second row: McClelland, Kraft, Clark, Bartsch, Ingledue, Reiniger, Holloway, Abraham.
third row: Hess, Shannon, Huff, Smith, Yingst, Hinkel, Brashear, Marzolf, Lutz.
fourth row: Schooler, Kindy, Bush, Faulkner, Neal, Budach, Rahn, Davidson.

Once each semester, individuals on our campus are invited to join this group of students "with the right attitude." The purpose of Shifters, a national organization, is a deeply-shrouded secret. Though all members possess the right attitude, non members are mystified by the qualification.

beta beta beta

The Tri-Beta, a national scholastic honorary society for students of the biological sciences, strives to promote interest in the natural sciences and to stimulate general overall scholarship. Its activities this year included an initiation picnic, a Christmas party with the A.C.S., and the presentation of a movie stressing the field of professional biology.

first row: Cramer, Walling, president, Hartman, Dittmar.
second row: Rolfes, Huston, Ebert, Prof. Norstog, Rockefeller, Fisher, Hutchinson, Dr. Bodenberg.

second row: Belles, Wilson, president.

delta phi alpha

Delta Phi Alpha, a national German honorary, strives to further acquaint the students with habits and customs of the German people. This year the honorary met with the German Club, performed in a modern language chapel service, and held their annual German Christmas party.

first row: Greider, Hickman, Rolfes, president, Cramer.
second row: Maurer, Miller, Hawken, Kindy.

kappa phi kappa

Kappa Phi Kappa is a national men's educational fraternity which meets once a month and promotes the study of educational problems and techniques. In April, the fraternity plans to bring to Wittenberg the high school Future Teachers of America organization. Initiation will take place in March. Its faculty members are Dean Nystrom, Dr. Kelly and Dr. Slaymaker.

Dr. Pershing, Stevenson, Koons, president.

phi alpha theta

Phi Alpha Theta, the national honor society in the field of history, provides training beyond that of the classroom. This year the society attended the regional conference at Denison University and held a winter initiation meeting.

phi sigma iota

Outstanding students in the romance languages are eligible for membership in this honorary. Meetings are held monthly to discuss foreign literature, cultures, and other pertinent subjects. To broaden their understanding outside the classroom, Phi Sigma Iota occasionally attends foreign movies.

first row: Miss MacPherson, Dr. Remsberg, Dauphinee.
second row: Greider, Gallagher, Brashear, Sessa, Dr. Moore.

pi delta epsilon

Pi Delta Epsilon is a National honorary for those students who have had two years of experience in journalism. Promotion of the TORCH and the WITTENBERGER, the college newspaper and yearbook is one of Pi Delta Epsilon's main objectives. The honorary is preparing a plaque on which the names of past editors of publications will be engraved. This plaque will be placed in the new library.

first row: McCoy, Blaze, Seng.

pi sigma alpha

Students who achieve a "B" average in at least ten hours of Political Science are eligible for membership in the honorary fraternity, Pi Sigma Alpha.

A national fraternity, Psi Chi, is for students with outstanding interest in psychology. Activities of the group include movies for the student body, panel discussions with the sociology club, a Christmas dinner for members and faculty and a Psyco-show in the spring.

sigma alpha iota

Sigma Alpha Iota, which promotes musical standards on the campus, sponsors the annual "Sings." To be initiated into the honorary, a girl must be a music major, maintaining a 2.5 average and having a proficiency in voice or on a musical instrument. To give its members poise and experience, the club presents a musical each month, such as the traditional singing of carols in Chapel each Christmas.

first row: Gordon, Fenton, Faust, president, Tullos, Osborn.

first row: Huff, Oberly, Lewis.

tau kappa alpha

Tau Kappa Alpha, forensic honorary, is open to those persons who participate in inter-collegiate debate. The annual Tau Kappa Alpha intramural debate on campus is the major project of the group. In addition to this, the organization sponsored and played host to the Tau Kappa Alpha regional tournament on the Wittenberg campus this year.

first row: Barnhart, Giles, Best, Miller, Bowman.
second row: Mrs. Kline, Strange, Prof. Krauss, Roller, Buchy, Prof. Van Metre.

The promotion of interest, scholarship, and extracurricular opportunities in the field of business is the work of Tau Pi Phi, business honorary.

first row: Schmalenberger, Marette, Clark, president, Lewis, Veler.
second row: Zimmerman, Kaitschuk, Huff, Fisher, Doctor.

theta alpha phi

Membership in Theta Alpha Phi, dramatics honorary, requires that a student display outstanding dramatic achievement. Ohio Delta, Wittenberg's chapter, participates in the presentation and production of plays throughout the year, and, in the spring, holds a banquet at which time active members present some interesting experiences that have befallen them in their acting careers.

phi delta pi

Organized for honoring co-eds with outstanding records in physical education, Phi Delta Pi is active on campus. Among other projects the girls sold candied apples at the basketball games, using the money to further the club's educational opportunities. They held two meetings for the interest of everyone featuring at one a physical therapist and at the other—a director of Hostel groups in Europe.

first row: Rockefeller, Lewis, Elsasser, Fisher, president, Reames, Peters, Sherwood.
second row: Kastens, Reis, Friederich, Larsh, Kadel, Heins, Lambert, Ehrardt.

first row: Dr. Remsberg, Steensen, president, Brown.
second row: Barringer, Roller, Ullery.

phi sigma tau

Newly organized on Wittenberg's campus is Beta Chapter of Phi Sigma Tau, philosophy fraternity. The new chapter is composed of students having a 3.00 overall and at least a "B" average in three semesters of Philosophy.

first row: Lowell, Elsass, Serviss, Freese, president, Buchy, Harper.
second row: Kline, Barnhart, Koehler, Bowman, Schneider, Budach, Pierce, Hess.

Witt-Econ is a student directed service club designed to develop increased interest in economic problems. The Forum meeting program may consist of a debate, a panel, or a guest speaker. Members who have completed twelve hours in economics with grades of "B" or better are "capped" or initiated into an honorary group known as Economic Men.

second row: Turner, Sunkle, Prof. Dueker, Prof. White, Delanis, Miller, Stinnett, Worth.

engineering-science club

Those students whose interests are in the fields of engineering and related subjects are members of the Engineering-Science Club. This club endeavors to provide opportunities to carry interest beyond the classroom into industrial situations. During the year the club made trips to Wright-Patterson airfield and the Delco plant.

american chemical society

The student affiliate of the American Chemical Society is the student branch of the national professional organization of 75,-000 chemists. The aim of the organization is to encourage and enrich the study of chemistry in the undergraduate curriculum. The student affiliate chapter holds monthly meetings with programs relating to some phase of chemistry. Outside speakers are often invited to address the group on some subject of general chemical interest. To be a member a student must intend to take courses which will give him a major in chemistry and must have completed one semester of his first chemistry course.

The purpose of the Sociology Club is to make Wittenberg students more aware of existing problems in the community. Programs this year have been varied and interesting. Wittenberg students related their experiences in Europe last summer, and foreign students from Antioch College were invited to tell about the problems of their own countries. In a joint meeting with Psi Chi, with professional people from Springfield on the panel, the problems of the adolescent were discussed.

Membership in Theta Eta Kappa is open to all students interested in home economics. It is a local organization associated with the Ohio and American Home Economics Associations. Its objectives are to improve its members' knowledge of various home economics fields and to train young women to become active and effective leaders in home and community life. It sponsors discussions and field trips relating to homemaking, dietetics, fashion design, and interior.

Eligibility for Women's Athletic Association is based upon intramural and sport's club participation. Its purpose is to promote an interest in women's athletic activities at Wittenberg.

A recently organized group, the Marlinettes have been active and successful during this year. They present an annual aquacade for the campus. Proceeds from last year's aquacade were used to purchase new costumes for this year's even better show.

The main objectives of the art club are to provide educational opportunities for its members and to spread appreciation of the visual arts to the whole campus. In keeping with this, the club organized a lending library of original paintings and reproductions for the use of students. In December it sponsored a weekend trip to the Pittsburg International Exhibition of Contemporary Painting and in the spring attended a lithographer's show in Cincinnati. The highlight of the club's year was the open house it held for the new Crabill art center opened for use last fall.

Formed for the purpose of making new friends and adjusting to the Wittenberg environment, the Cosmopolitan Club is a campus organization for students of other lands. Its members serve the community by speaking to interested groups about their own lands.

Foremost in an alumnus' memories of his collegiate years are experiences, varied, unique, lively, afforded by participation in Wittenberg-offered activities. From autumn's highlight, gala Homecoming, to spring's major fete, the interpretative Alma Mater pageant, students revolve in the whirl of all-campus events.

Wittenbergers demonstrate their abilities and talents in numerous organizations stimulated by the singular combination of work and interest. Whether it be bowing a bass viol, portraying a dramatic role, enacting Senate legislation, or reading liturgy in chapel, the individual performer gains a sense of creativity, service, and constructive fun apart from the academic routine.

Most barren would be a student's existence if he isolated himself from these activities which directly spell the inherent meaning of Wittenberg. The core of student life may be located in their tangible and intangible contribution.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

"Destination Victory"

Each fall, midnight oil burns as fraternity and sorority members draw up plans, pound nails and stakes, mold papier-mache, drape oilcloth, and string lights building their Homecoming displays. As groups recall laughing together over the lights that went out at the wrong time, the blaring record amplifiers, the wobbly ladders they straddled, a renewal of Greek and school spirit brings them closer together. Homecoming is warmly remembered as a noisy, exhausting, but truly exciting, traditional weekend.

Competition is keen, for each group is bent on winning the traveling trophies. For the second consecutive year, Lambda Chi Alpha was awarded the fraternity cup. Kappa Delta won the sorority first prize. "Destination Victory" featured a life-sized rocket, complete with a flaming exhaust, against a background of roof-high gray paper mountains. Twirling batons, booming basses, and marching red-suited bandsmen strutted down the football field between halves of every home game last fall. With its energetic and ambitious new director, Robert C. Dolbeer, the Wittenberg marching band portrayed jack o' lanterns, circus scenes, and the popular Homecoming show, "Woman's Work Is Never Done." The band also presented reviews at two "away" games. With the addition of some new instruments and a collection of indoor music, the marching band became the concert band for the winter months. Its first appearance was a convocation program, which ended on the toe-tapping note of a modern "Dry Bones." In the spring, the band presented another convocation program of varied numbers.

The Symphony Orchestra began its 1955-56 season under the direction of its talented new conductor, Ralph Tinianow. The major performance of the first semester was "Amahl and the Night Visitors," in connection with the choir and the speech department. In the spring, a concert of Mozart music commemorated Mozart's anniversary year. The orchestra also provided music for the Baccalaureate Service.

The Wittenberg College Choir has found this to be one of the biggest years in its history. With its new director, talented and likeable Professor L. David Miller, the choir traveled on its annual tour through Pennsylvania, New York, and Ohio. Following the March trip, the choir made recordings for eleven broadcasts of "The Protestant Hour" on radio, and began preparations for the fall dedication of the Chapel-Library. Hard work and patience were demanded of the director and the personnel, but the experience of beautiful music and deserved popularity were their rewards.

Who doesn't like to sit back and enjoy the soothing harmony of a quartet? We listen to them on the radio or on our own records by the hour every day. But it isn't every day that we can see a quartet in action. Just imagine how lucky we are to have one like our own "Student Princes" to sing for us at our campus dances and chapel services. But this is only where they started.

Brought together by Wittenberg College and Beta Theta Pi, four juniors, Jerry Oberly, Dick Dudash, Dick Holloway, and Wes Runk, started singing last year. At first they sang for their fraternity brothers and at college functions. Then their fame spread to community churches and social groups. At this time, they were known as the "Beta Quartet." In the summer of 1955, they sang at a resort in Lafayette, Ohio on Friday nights.

When they returned to classes in the fall as seniors, the quartet was "discovered"; they traveled to New York for an audition for Arthur Godfrey. When they came back to Springfield, they continued on their list of engagements—singing for the Homecoming dance, their fraternity dances, and in chapel.

For the future the quartet has no definite plans except to sing together for the coming summer. We sincerely wish them luck as they continue on their climb to further success.

More musical talent at Wittenberg was demonstrated by the sophomore boys' quartet this past year During Freshman Week, Bob Lantz, Jerry Lorentz, Chuck Sturtz, and Dave Tuleen began singing together and organized a new quartet, the "Temponaires." The group was an immediate success on campus, and has sung at a number of dances and other campus functions.

Although all have had experience in singing, they rely upon Dave, who has had formal training in music, to do their arranging and handling of technical problems. Bob takes care of the business—buying music and arranging engagements.

Among their favorites, spirituals rank high. But few of us will forget their renditions of "Carolina Moon" and "Little Lamb." We hope we'll hear more of the Temponaires' brand of harmony in '56.

Those of you who ate in Woodlawn Dining Hall in the fall of 1954 will recall the cheery singing of four freshman girls, whose melodies always seemed to make the "chow" line move much faster. Because they were only singing to pass the time and for their own enjoyment, they hardly dreamed that they would become famous on campus and in the community.

But now at the end of their sophomore year, they have become veterans of show business, having sung at convocations, in chapel, at dances, and in churches. The girls—Liz Keller, Margie Neff, Carla Rethmeyer, and Barbara Schaefer—are still singing for their own enjoyment. But when we hear them singing "Dearie," the first song they ever sang, we all wish them success in entertaining others beyond the walls of Wittenberg.

Model Jackie Blair admires the blaze of red taffeta worn by Barb Tinholt, Katherine Hynes' campus representative.

The curtains in Blair Hall Auditorium opened one night last fall on a parade of our sorority sisters modeling the latest college fashions. The occasion was a style show for the interest of the Wittenberg coeds. It was organized by the Katherine Hynes apparel shop with its campus model, Barbara Tinholt. Two girls from each social group were chosen for models, wearing everything from slacks and school clothes to cocktail dresses and formals. The show, with fashion comments by Miss Wineberger, Springfield's Fashion Consultant, helped girls to plan and organize their college wardrobes.

Simplicity is the keynote of Nancy Rusk's chic gown.

"band of renown"

Wittenbergers and residents of the Springfield area filled the fieldhouse from stage edge to bleachers on the night of December 8, waiting to hear the music of the nation's top-rated dance band. And, judging from the enthusiastic applause that rocked the building during the next two hours, nobody was disappointed. Les Brown and his Band of Renown, making their only campus stop in the state of Ohio, continued the "big name" tradition begun last year by the appearance of Dave Brubeck and his troupe. The band's smooth rhythm and sharp downbeats seemed to set everybody's toes tapping, and vocalists Stumpy Brown, Jo-Ann Greer, and Butch Stone set the various moods of the evening—sentimental, sweet, and slapstick.

Our heartiest thanks to sponsors, Student Senate and the sophomore class; it was truly a night to remember.

Although he is a newcomer to the Wittenberg family, Ronald T. Hammond has accomplished much as Director of Dramatics, and has become very popular among his students. Originally from England, Mr. Hammond is a veteran of the stage as an actor, director, and producer. Here at Wittenberg, he has directed a number of plays and productions, and has become the able advisor of the Theater Guild. Mr. Hammond, we sincerely and warmly welcome you to Wittenberg.

In a very unusual and spectacular convocation last Christmas, the music and speech departments presented the opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors." As the story goes, a poor little lame boy and his mother put up for the night the three wise men on their journey to find the Christ Child. When they prepare to leave, Amahl feels he wants to give the Holy Child a gift; but his only possession is his crutch. As he hands it to the wise men, a miracle takes place—he is cured, and can walk. Elinor Bartsch sang the role of Amahl, and Carolyn Collins sang the part of his mother. The three kings portrayed by Earl Stam, Ralph Ferguson, and Charles Seng. Against a setting of impressive backdrops, and enhanced by effective lighting, the production was a great success in the eyes of everyone—those who worked on it in any way, and those who sat back and enjoyed it. We hope Wittenberg will continue to use its talent in entertainment of this caliber.

In October, the dramatics class 105 presented "The Heiress," by Ruth and August Goetz, under the direction of Mr. Hammond. The story is a familiar one; a young heiress is wooed for her bank account despite her doubtful charms, and later faces the choice of marrying the cad or living in wealthy spinsterhood. The play was most effectively cast, and was well received by the student body as a hint of more good things to come from the department of dramatics under Mr. Hammond's able instruction.

"letters to lucerne"

The setting of "Letters to Lucerne" is a girls' school in Switzerland, during the troubled times of the first world war. It concerns the girls who lived there and the dilemma into which they were thrown by the circumstances of war. Although the actual fighting does not reach them, they feel the bitterness of the struggle through their only contact with the outside—letters from their loved ones. The play was presented in December, under the direction of Mr. Hammond and Jerry Schmalenberger, to an enthusiastic and responsive audience.

Since 1914 of, for and by the students of Wittenberg college, the WITTENBERG TORCH functions as the weekly chronicle of campus news.

Enlivened with features on personalities, happenings and academic subjects, photographs, cartoons and a diversity of columns, the TORCH is keynoted by general readability, attractiveness, qualified content, and variety.

The TORCH beat reporter, feature writer, proofreader, advertising salesman, editor—all gain an invaluable lesson in the newspaper world of printer's ink and journalistic jargon. The worth of such an experience is augmented by its teaching in the art of human nature.

Aims expressed by the WITTENBERG TORCH at its founding are still considered by-words today: "We aim to make a paper giving a true account of Wittenberg activity . . . The TORCH is intended to be a real, live paper of college events told in a college way."

The most important and vital organization for Wittenberg students is our four-year old governing body, the Student Senate. Directed by Gert Reiniger and her cabinet, the Senate sponsored the all-campus get-acquainted dance, rallies, Dads' Day, Homecoming, Migration Day, "Leap-Year Legend," and Student Day, as well as co-sponsoring the Les Brown Concert, several convocations, and Alma Mater Weekend. In addition to these activities, the work of WCF, the cheerleaders, and the many committees set up to investigate student problems was overseen by the Senate.

A glimpse behind the scenes of Student Senate would reveal the continual activity of the executive branch, the Cabinet. Composed of the officers and the chairmen of Campus Service, Social, WCF, and Public Relations committees, the Cabinet establishes policy and sets the pace for the legislature, the representative, law-making branch. The judicial branch, the Student Court, found its biggest job the investigation and proposition of an honor system. Piloted by Tom Hickman as it advised, ruled, and interpreted the Senate Constitution, the Court directed student interest toward devising a more effective student life. This indeed was the work of the entire Senate, as it has become the student voice of Wittenberg.

With the coming of the beautiful days of Spring, Wittenbergers begin to look forward to their annual Student Day. Afternoon classes are dismissed especially for this Student Senate sponsored affair. The agenda for the day includes booths, provided by various campus organizations; a picnic lunch; a hilarious soap-box derby featuring every sort of weird contraption not excluding the "kitchen sink," and an auction featuring "priceless" articles ranging from bizarre handpainted ties to ancient and dusty college catalogues. This non-profit project never fails to promote better student-faculty relations and to provide an afternoon of enjoyment for all.

Carolyn McClelland, 1955 Alma Mater, Lianne Valleau, 1954 Alma Mater, Janet Williams, Anne Ebert, Carolyn La Fon, Zona Zeunges.

Reserved for 1956 Alma Mater

Each spring, one junior girl is chosen by the undergraduate women as Alma Mater, the highest honor that may be bestowed upon a Wittenberg coed. Lianne Valleau was chosen for her academic excellence, leadership, and character. Attending her as Torch Bearers were Anne Ebert and Carolyn McClelland.

Students joined in joyful dances portraying the theme of a yearbook to do honor to the Alma Mater and her court. Each month of the school year was suggested by dancers bedecked in highly picturesque and colorful costumes.

Co-chairmen for the pageant were Ruth Miller and Christine Johnson, who were ably assisted by chairmen of the various subcommittees.

Several solo dancers enhanced the appeal of the pageant, which was accompanied by the Wittenberg Band.

An unusually beautiful day perfected the results of the 1955 pageant, and it proved to be one of the most outstanding Alma Mater days in the history of Wittenberg.

Haggai 2:7

A building of astounding beauty and magnificence is rising on the Wittenberg campus as a monument for all time to men and women who have expressed faith in the values of Christian education. The new chapel-library contains many features which make it different perhaps from any other college structure in the world. Constructed of light, rose-colored brick, trimmed with limestone, the building cost $1,250,000. This amount is being met through the generous donations of many friends.

Contrary to the normal Gothic type, the interior of the glass windows will be polychromed with lead, thus providing new and interesting light patterns at night. A story-telling horizontal stained glass window will occupy the panel along the low roof aisle on one side of the church. The main focal point of the building is the freestanding lighted tower which rises 150 feet above campus. Simple in design, it is ornamented with three ecclesiastical and cultural figures on each side of the two entrance faces. A metal spire and beautiful gold cross top the brick tower and can be seen for several miles. Built to seat 1200 students, the new place of worship will be called Weaver Memorial Chapel in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Elgar Weaver who gave most of the necessary funds. Below is a view of the finished structure from the chapel side; as it should look by September, 1956.

At the start, it is just a hole in the ground.

The end is in sight.

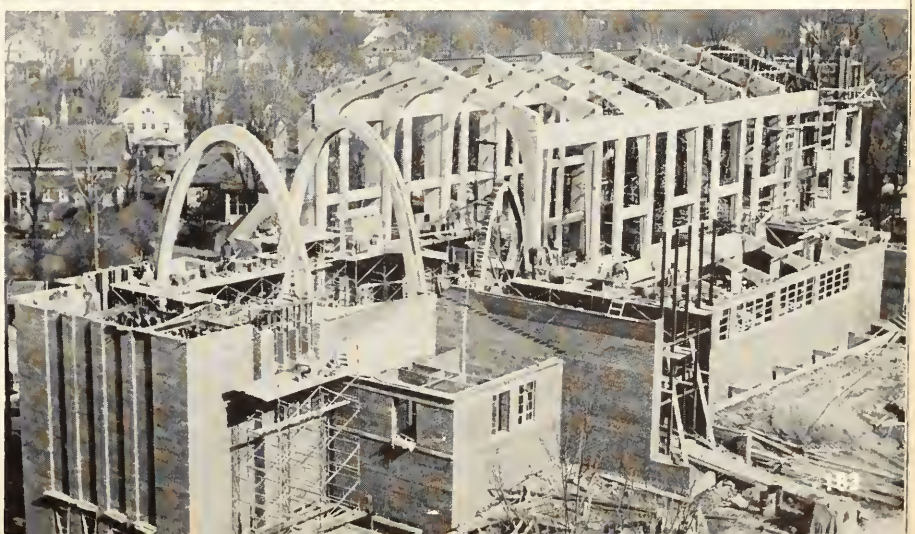
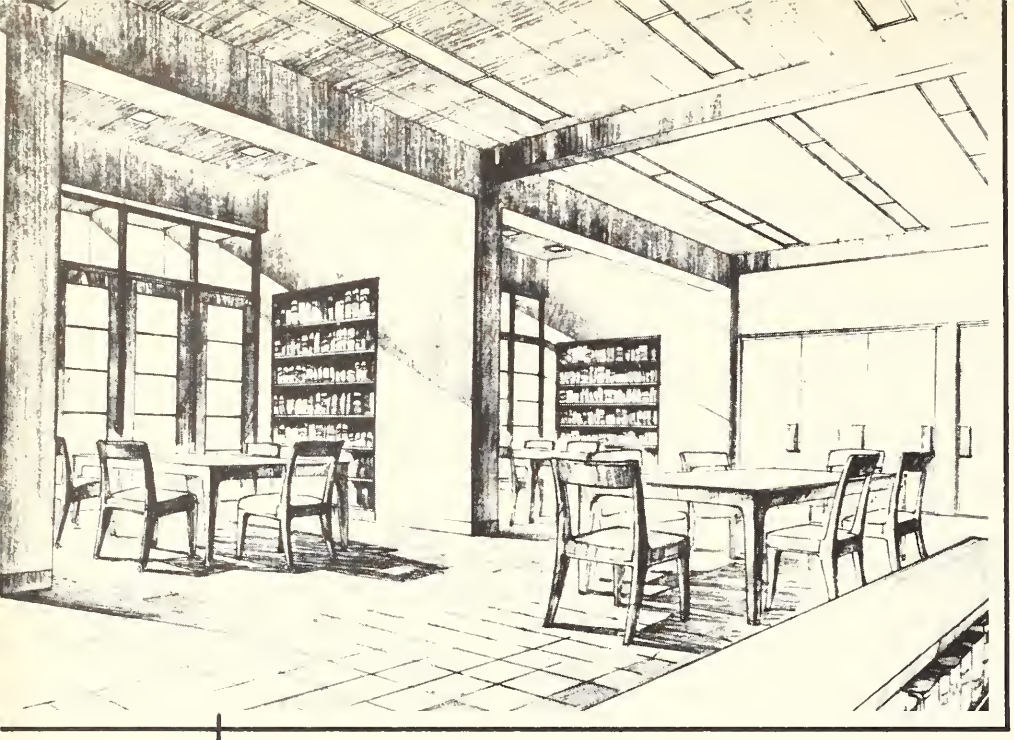
A strong framework is needed.





The memorial library is located entirely above ground on the downgrade side of the hill. Its principal entrance, framed by enclosing low walls and masonry seats, is in the base of the high tower. The library's name—still to be determined—will be cast in concrete at the outer edge of the flat covering slab over the doorway. From the door, an open terrace leads to a small memorial fountain. Enclosed entirely by a wall and flanking library wings, an attractively planted garden court will be accessible from the surrounding reading room areas. The windows of the two reading rooms will be separated with aluminum plate fins which will reflect light into these study quarters. The large stack rooms will be located on the up-grade side of the building and will house 200,000 books.

Serving as the religious activities committee of Student Senate, Wittenberg Christian Fellowship is an all-campus organization. This structure has as its governing body the WCF council, composed of one student for every one hundred students on campus, two faculty members, a representative from Hamma Divinity School, and the college pastor. With the exception of the freshmen, each class has equal representation. Church affiliation is not considered when campus-wide elections are held in the spring. The council, which serves until the following spring, correlates all religious activities on campus.

The purpose of WCF is to deepen and enrich Christian faith on campus, to encourage individual and group expression of Christian faith, and to act as a unifying force among the students through study and service, worship and fellowship.

Jo Hinkle and Sue Carrier promote creative ability at the Inner Mission.

WCF is composed of five basic committees, each chaired by a council member. The Worship Committee plans all chapel services, writes and distributes devotional booklets, and erects the annual Christmas creche at the college entrance. The sponsoring of the Campus Chest drive; the organization of visiting teams to hospitals, orphanages, and old folks homes; and the provision of students to work at the Inner Mission falls within the province of the Social Actions Committee. The work of planning and correlating committees for the increasingly popular WCF nights, is under the jurisdiction of the Study Committee which also brings noted speakers to campus. The Fellowship Committee is responsible for WCF night recreation activities. It planned the "Square Ball," an all campus dance, as well as the Freshman Week Picnic. WCF activities are publicized and promoted by the Publicity Committee through the Torch, chapel bulletins, the WCF newsletter, and posters.

Six-thirty in the morning but we all turned out for the Thanksgiving service in the new chapel.

College without athletics would be difficult to imagine for today's student. From the football thriller on a crisp Saturday afternoon to the baseball play-off in the spring, athletics is as integrated a part of campus life as the ivy-covered buildings.

Why is this phase of college so important? For the participants, it is building stronger minds and bodies and instilling within them the desire for wholesome living habits and sportsmanlike attitudes. For the spectators, it is, or can be, the strongest source of campus unity.

The ultimate ambition, as everywhere, is to build winning teams. This past year, even an impartial observer could sense a rejuvenation of attitudes, a rebuilding of campus spirit, a redefining of aims, resulting in renewed motivation for coach, player, and spectator. Such encouraging enthusiasm illuminates prospects for the coming year, certain to be marked by a realization of mutual goals.

Coach William Edwards is back at his alma mater as head football coach and director of athletics. By devoting himself to the team, working hard with and for them, he and his Tigers finished the season with a commendable 4-3-2 record. After his playing days at Wittenberg ended "Big Bill" turned to coaching. He turned out several prosperous seasons of high school coaching before turning to the collegiate level. Before returning to Wittenberg he coached at Western Reserve, Vanderbilt, and North Carolina University. We know that his varied background of many successes will make him a valuable addition to our faculty.

Wittenberg opened its 1955 football season by defeating Olivet 28-0. The little school's big threat lay in their passer—rated best in Michigan—who was unable to penetrate the superb defense or avoid the charging line of the Lutherans. On the other hand, the Tigers managed to score in all four quarters. Our first conference game was with the Akron Zips. Although the Tigers rolled up a quick seven points in the first quarter the Zips, with their lightning fast offense, overcame the lead to leave the field with a 21-7 victory. Dad's Day saw Marietta beaten by a top-heavy 44-13 score. Urbanski accounted for two of the tallies while Boekel, Woodward, and Deems, all freshmen, divided the rest of the scoring honors. The revengeful Tigers easily outclassed the Pioneers to deliver a sound return for last year's upset.

On the road for their fourth game of the season the Fighting Lutherans met a powerful Heidelberg team. The Student Princes, one of the top small college teams in Ohio, cinched their 20-0 victory with two long scoring plays in the final minutes.

Homecoming brought the Fighting Lutherans back to Zimmerman Field for a tilt with Otterbein. Amid the usual crepe paper and streamers, Queen Carolyn McCelland and five thousand fans watched Wittenberg fight the Cardinals to a thrilling 13-13 finish.

Out on the road again the Tigers journeyed to Mt. Union for the Purple Raider's homecoming game. Although the jubilant crowd cheered Mt. Union to an early lead, the Tigers staged a sparkling comeback, scoring twice in the final quarter, to throw the "wet towel" on the Unionite's celebration.

The Big Red of Denison, with blood in their eyes from last year's defeat, entertained the Lutherans at Granville. The Tigers were unable to stop their slashing offense with an effective counter-attack and the Big Reds walked off with a 13-8 victory.

Still on the road with a 3-1-2 record the Tigers went after their fourth victory at Capital University. The Caps owned a widely praised and highly rated offense. Unwilling to leave them their glory, the spirited Lutheran team fought a close battle and left with a 27-20 triumph.

Coaches Edwards and Mauer had a special interest in the Lutherans' final game. Not since 1928, the year these two played for Wittenberg, had the Lutherans been able to defeat Ohio Wesleyan University. However, the best they could manage was a draw, and a sensational pass from Rosencrans far down the field to Urbanski in the last seconds of play tied the score. Next year's prediction: another winning season!

a rugged season

The Lutheran roundball artists completed the '55-'56 season with a record of 8 wins and 12 defeats. They placed fifth in the Ohio conference with a record of 7 and 6.

In the season's opener here Earlham fed the Tigers a delectable defeat, after which high-ranked Kent State refused to be good hosts and served a second loss. Returning home the Tigermen chalked up a win over Wooster only to lose their next game to Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware. A loss to Mount Union closed out the pre-Christmas season.

During vacation on a road trip through Indiana the Wittenbergers won the first game from Wabash and dropped a second to Earlham.

After a brief vacation Tigers returned to the hardwood, only to lose the first game in 1956 to Capital. The next two games were chalked up in the win column by the victory-starved Tigers with triumphs over Otterbein and Muskingum. In a mid-season slump the Maurermen proceeded to lose the next four games in a row to the Ohio State junior varsity, Defiance, Akron, and Marietta. One should note, however, that Akron later became Ohio Conference champion, while Defiance walked off with its conference title. As Greek Week opened the Red and White downed Ohio Wesleyan and triumphed over Hiram. Conquering Baldwin Wallace climaxed the home season with a high-scoring thriller, 121-108, greatest two-team total in Wittenberg history. Highlight of the encounter was a half-time ceremony honoring Jack Hawken.

In the final two games of the season, both away, the Tigers earned a split by tripping Capital in the season's finale, after losing to Denison.

Next year? Many are looking to the coming years for winning seasons, and have good reason to, as several underclassmen gained valuable experience this year.

Hawken tips to Hennon over the hand of a Muskingum man.

As Jack Hawken graduates this year, he takes with him several Wittenberg scoring records. In his college career "Hawk" played 83 varsity games and compiled a total of 1610 points. In these 83 games he averaged 19.6 points per game and his total was just 39 short of the Ohio conference scoring record. Jack holds the Wittenberg single game record of 41 points, the Field House record of 39 points, and the high season total of 480 points scored in his junior year.

Jack has been an All-Conference selection the past three seasons and an All-State member the last two years making the Second Team last year and Honorable Mention this year.

Even though the "Hawk" puts away his basketball at Wittenberg this year, his contributions to campus life and his athletic achievements will long be remembered.

sporting 12 wins and a single loss, the past season's junior varsity squad compiled a truly praise-worthy record. the final tally, due to both individual and team talent, marks this group of Tiger cubs as one of the most outstanding units in the college's basketball history.

JVs, characterized by balance, high scorers, and an excellent brand of offensive and defensive play, faced many crucial moments on the hardwood. in several cases the underclassmen rallied to end the contest with a near 100 points.

foreseeing present freshman agility, coordination, and ball-handling on the varsity outfit, one can predict with reasonable certainty that within a few years, Wittenberg will be a strong contender for the conference title.

Although handicapped by a shortage of swimmers, Wittenberg's 1955-56 swimming team managed to achieve a definite improvement in last year's record. Much credit for this improvement goes to David F. Maurer, Wittenberg's swimming coach, whose fine work with the team earned him respect and popularity in his first year on campus.

Outstanding individual performers on the team this year were Dick Davies, in scoring 51 1/4 points; Roger Riley, Bill Troth, Dennis Sweeterman, John Richards, Jim Waters, and Hal Hagen.

The improvement which this year's team has already shown and the number of underclassmen on the team are factors which seem to promise a much better season next year.

It's been a long, hard season eh, Coach Mauer?

Stimulation of good church music is the main purpose of the Hamma Divinity School choir. It was organized by Dr. Bostrom but is composed entirely of students and directed by a student. The choir displays their exceptional blend and superior quality each year as they tour the middle West performing in the L u t h e r a n churches.

It was our pleasure this year to listen to the choir at one of the convocations. Stimulating was their program and great their spirit. With such talent and enthusiasm continued success in the future is assured.

Presentation of exceptional religious music is the special concern of choir business manager Jim Barkenquast and director Tom Rogers.

Professor Patmos congratulates conference participants after completion of the one-week program.

industrial develoment program

The Industrial Development Program is now in its fifth year. Enrollment and interest are steadily increasing as supervisors and foremen from Springfield, and points as far as Texas and Georgia are participating in this program.

In September, 1951, leading industrialists and administrators of the college met to discuss a program of training for those already in the field of work. The result of these meetings was a totally new and different type of training to suit the industrial supervisors who were interested.

The program is set up on a forty-hour, one-week basis. Skills and knowledge gained from conferences and discussions will make these men better members of the management team. Having a clearer conception of what their jobs imply, these men return to work with new enthusiasm and a better understanding to greatly add to the well-being of the firm and community.

Professor A. Edward Patmos, Director of MANAGEMENT DEVELOPMENT, unravels some of the mysteries of Economics.

The Ohio Thermometer Company salutes Wittenberg and the Wittenberg graduate. In telling the story of the American System of Free Enterprise, Wittenberg has performed an outstanding service to the community and the nation. Local industry has benefited immeasurably through the Program of Industrial Management. As a participant, Ohio Thermometer is proud of the cooperation that has made this plan a success. The result will be a better Springfield and a better America.
